MUNICIPAL ELECTION RESULTS - 2010

The municipal elections have come to a close and the results varied wildly across the province. However, the general trend was against incumbent candidates. There were big changes in the GTA as well as throughout the province with upsets. In the City of Toronto, Rob Ford swept into power with a significant mandate promising strong reforms to city hall. In Oshawa, incumbent John Gray was defeated by John Henry and in Burlington the incumbent Cam Jackson who came in a distant third place, will be replaced by Rick Goldring. Incumbents outside the GTA in Ottawa, London, Hamilton, and Sudbury were also defeated. In Ottawa, former Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing, Jim Watson was elected mayor. OHBA congratulates all newly elected Mayors and Councils. We know our local associations will work cooperatively with local governments to continue to build a more prosperous Ontario.
